TEHRAN — Al Khalifa finds the outbreak of the coronavirus in the region as the best opportunity to achieve political goals and recently presented the return of his nationals from other regions. A Bahraini activist Ibrahim AL Madhoun pointed to this issue and said, "We notice that the Bahrain government has caused distress for its citizens by not allowing them to return to their country. These people have been in the Islamic Republic for a long time and the Bahraini regime does not fulfill its duties towards its nationals."

Meanwhile, the head of the Human Rights Association of Bahrain Bahar Davari maintained, "After the outbreak of coronavirus in Iran, the reaction of Bahraini officials towards their nationals has been totally negligent. This behavior caused suffering and financial problems for a large number of these people.

"Indeed, this move by Al Khalifa reflects its tribalist approach and discriminatory policies towards Bahrainis. The truth is that the regime is using the spread of coronavirus as an excuse to implement its sectarian policies against the citizens of Bahrain and ultimately expel them further. Referring to the tribalism policies of the Al Khalifa regime, political activist Abdul-Ghani al-Khajir concluded that to prevent the return of Bahrainis from Iran with the excuse of the coronavirus is a grave crime against the people of Bahrain. It proves that Al Khalifa regime does not deserve to rule a country like Bahrain."

U.S. on collision course with the world’s first coronavirus pandemic

"We have never before seen a pandemic spread by a coronavirus. This is the first pandemic caused by a coronavirus. It is unprecedented," Dr. Yudhijit Bhattacharjee (Associated Press) said of the spread of COVID-19, the disease caused by the SARS-CoV-2 virus, and over 42,000 fatalities, according to the World Health Organization (WHO) who officially declared the spread of the virus pandemic on Saturday.

"But rather than treat this as a public health crisis of catastrophic proportions, some countries are using the spread of coronavirus as an excuse to expand their power and diminish the health of their citizens. The United States is among those, along with a number of other countries.

"It is a time of crisis, some nations' leaders have scoffed at the measures taken by Iran, Italy and the Republic of Korea to deal with the pandemic that can be controlled. Acknowledging the British policy, WHO official Ghebreyesus stated that the WHO "has never before seen a pandemic spread by a coronavirus. This is the first pandemic caused by a coronavirus. It is unprecedented.""

Iran's coronavirus cartoon contest receives submissions from over 40 countries

General elections on Trump’s agenda.

Trump should review U.S. forces’ presence in the region, Iran says

TEHRAN – The Islamic Republic's foreign minister urged the US administration to review the presence of its military forces in the Middle East.

Abbas Moussavi said, "The US can not find itself in the negative impact of its force's illegal presence in Iraq and in the region."
Ayatollah Khamenei commands armed forces to establish medical base to control coronavirus

TEHRAN — Leader of the Islamic Revolution Ayatollah Ali Khamenei has commanded the Chiefs of the General Staff of the Armed Forces Major General Mohammad Bagheri to establish a medical base to fight the coronavirus in an effort to prevent the spread of the disease.

Following is full text of the decree published by the khamenei.ir:

In the Name of Allah, the Beneficent, the Merciful

In accordance with the services that the Armed Forces have provided to the dear people so far in the fight against Coronavirus, and with the need for the base to continue and expand these services, it is necessary to organize these services into a medical base. In addition to treating the sick and establishing medical centers such as field hospitals, places of quarantine, etc., the spread of the disease should also be prevented using the necessary methods. The division of duties and missions of the organizations and departments of the Armed Forces is one of the tasks of this Base. This Base must work in full coordination with the government and the Ministry of Health.

This measure may also be regarded as a bilateral defense exercise and an instance of our nation's capabilities that gives the evidence that suggests the likelihood of this being a "bio-logical" attack.

It is hoped with divine guidance and the special support of Imam Khomeini and Imam Khamenei, the Iranion nation will always be victorious, safe and sound.

Envoy: Iran’s health capacity viciously targeted by unilateral U.S. sanctions

(Press TV) – Tehran’s ambassador to international organizations and the League of Arab States Ayatollah Abbas Mousavi has said that Iran has the capacity to stop the coronavirus outbreak, but its health sector is being targeted by unilateral U.S. sanctions.

Mousavi said that Iran is preparing to host international medical conferences and medical exhibitions in the upcoming months, but unilateral sanctions by U.S. are obstructing the way.

"I am repeating that the Council cannot afford to ignore the fact that COVID-19 is spreading around the world and it is a disease that has started in Wuhan, China, and has spread across the world and 4,630 have died, the vast majority of who were in the United States and China," he said.

He said Iran was among the developing countries that have recently been targeted by economic terrorism for years.

In his edict, which was addressed to General Baqeri, Khamenei emphasized the need to bring down the United States’ doctors, "They used to say that the health sector is a non-radical sector in this war, but they wanted to attack this sector and bring it apart across the world— are painfully aware, we have the capacity to stop this disease. Most of us have been affected by the spread of the disease first identified in the central Chinese city of Wuhan, which was spread to almost all the world and now we are suffering from its consequences.

"It is hoped that with divine guidance and the special support of Imam Khomeini and Imam Khamenei, the Iranion nation will always be victorious, safe and sound.

Shamkhani: Similarity between Soleimani assassination and claim of attack on Camp Tajie base

IRANIAN ARMY unveils new disinfection vehicles to fight coronavirus

"While the virus ravages our cities and towns, our population and the people of other countries affected—suffer under the most severe and indiscriminate campaign of economic terrorism, Iran has been illegally and extra-territorially attacked against its sovereignty and territories by the United States and the international community.

"It is hoped that with divine guidance and the special support of Imam Khomeini and Imam Khamenei, the Iranion nation will always be victorious, safe and sound.

Iranian Army unveils new disinfection vehicles to fight coronavirus

Iranian Commander in the Northern Military Region, Brigadier General Mohammad Bagheri, unveiled new disinfection vehicles to fight coronavirus in Tehran on Wednesday.

"The Army has unveiled new disinfection vehicles to fight the virus and make people’s lives safer in major cities and provinces," Bagheri said.

"The Army has offered Iran assistance. If they'd let us do our job, the health sector would not be attacked," he added.

Senior military commander in the northern military region, Brigadier General Mohammad Bagheri, unveiled new disinfection vehicles to fight coronavirus in Tehran on Wednesday.

"The Army has unveiled new disinfection vehicles to fight the virus and make people’s lives safer in major cities and provinces," Bagheri said.

"The Army has offered Iran assistance. If they'd let us do our job, the health sector would not be attacked," he added.

Iranian Commander in the Northern Military Region, Brigadier General Mohammad Bagheri, unveiled new disinfection vehicles to fight coronavirus in Tehran on Wednesday.

"The Army has unveiled new disinfection vehicles to fight the virus and make people’s lives safer in major cities and provinces," Bagheri said.

"The Army has offered Iran assistance. If they'd let us do our job, the health sector would not be attacked," he added.

The Army has unveiled new disinfection vehicles to fight the virus and make people’s lives safer in major cities and provinces."
Iran's envoy named vice-chair of OPCW Executive Council

MARCH 14, 2020

Iranian Ambassador to the United Nations (UN) and head of the Islamic Republic of Iran's Mission to the OPCW, Reza Najafi, has been named as one of the vice-chairs of the Executive Council of the Organization for the Prohibition of Chemical Weapons (OPCW).

"We are honored to announce that the Executive Council of the OPCW has appointed Ambassador Reza Najafi as one of the vice-chairs of the Executive Council," the Permanent Representative of Iran to the UN in Vienna, Abbas Araghchi, said in a tweet on Thursday. "We thank all members and the OPCW for their support and trust in the expertise and positive contributions of our esteemed colleague, Ambassador Reza Najafi, to this important organization."

"The Islamic Republic of Iran has always been a firm supporter of the OPCW and is committed to its goals and objectives. Iran's hard work has been recognized, and the international community is grateful for our continuous support." Araghchi added.

The announcement comes after an extraordinary meeting of the Executive Council on Thursday to appoint new vice-chairs and new chairman of the council.

The position of vice-chair is important as it gives the holder a vote on the organization's decisions, and can also influence the council's work on chemical arms inspections and verification.

In his role as vice-chair, Najafi is expected to work closely with the OPCW's director-general, Fernando Arias, and other member states to advance the organization's mission.

Najafi has been accredited as Iran's ambassador to the UN in Vienna since 2015. He previously served as Iran's ambassador to Austria and Italy, and as a diplomat in the UN Department of Economic and Social Affairs.

The OPCW is an international organization established in 1997 to ensure that the world is free of chemical weapons. It is headquartered in The Hague, Netherlands and has 193 member states.

In the United States, the OPCW is part of the Department of State, and is responsible for implementing and enforcing the Chemical Weapons Convention, which is an international treaty that prohibits the development, production, and use of chemical weapons.

The OPCW is also responsible for verifying the disarmament of countries that have declared they possess chemical weapons, and for inspecting and monitoring the destruction of those weapons.

The United States has been a member of the OPCW since 1997, and has been an active participant in the organization's work.

The appointment of an Iranian diplomat to the post of vice-chair of the OPCW Executive Council is a significant development, as it shows Iran's commitment to the organization and its efforts to contribute to the global fight against chemical weapons.

The Islamic Republic of Iran is a strong advocate of a world free of chemical weapons and has consistently supported the OPCW's mission.

The appointment of Najafi as vice-chair is a testament to Iran's commitment to upholding global standards and to protecting the rights of the world's people.

Iranian Ambassador to the UN Araghchi said: "We thank the OPCW and all member states for the trust and support they have shown in the expertise and contributions of our esteemed colleague, Ambassador Reza Najafi."
Steel export up 28% in 11 months/yr

Iranian annual aluminum production to increase 60%-

Iran: The capacity of aluminum production in the country is expected to reach 755,000 tonnes in the current calendar year (March 21, 2020) compared to 350,000 in last year. Iran's aluminum production peaked at 416,840 tonnes in 2019/20, while its aluminum smelting capacity was 660,000 tonnes.

The country's Aluminum Production Research Centre, affiliated to the Ministry of Industry, Mining and Trade, said Iran is planning to increase its aluminum production to 60% this year.

Iranian aluminum production capacity reached 1.15 million metric tonnes for the year ending March 20. While the production of aluminum reached 416,840 tonnes in the year, the production capacity of Iran's aluminum smelters reached 2.6 million tonnes.

Meanwhile, the country's steel products output stood at 9.2 million tonnes in the past ten-month period of this year, jumping 97 percent compared to the corresponding period of the previous year.

In imports, the country has reported 3.984 million tonnes of steel during the first ten months of the current year, rising 21 percent year-on-year.

The ten-month steel products export has been reported at 5.6 million tonnes, up 9.1 percent year-on-year.

To curb the effects of sanctions in the steel industry, the country's roadmap requires domestic production potential and capability.

Steel calls on ICC to exempt medical equipment from U.S. sanctions

Halting China's economy was hard, restarting it is harder

Experts warn that due to lack of testing and unreported cases, many more people may be affected by the outbreak that started in the international community in late January. A recent major sporting event was affected, with the Players Championship golf tournament and the Australian Formula One Grand Prix scrapped.

Chinese President Xi Jinping and his daughter, Golfur, were among several thousand people newly diagnosed with the COVID-19 virus.

In Italy, where the death toll passed 1,000 in Europe's deadliest outbreak, governments and central banks readied more emergency measures to tackle the economic impact of the coronavirus on Friday, helping finance to continue to flow even as more events were canceled or postponed. The country's Prime Minister, Giuseppe Conte, announced that Italy’s national soccer league would be suspended and cricket matches ordered to be held without spectators.

The death toll from coronavirus in Iran reached 429, the country’s ministry of health said on Monday. It has been reported that the U.S. death toll passed 100.

The International Chamber of Commerce (ICC) has been working with governments and organizations that are responsible for battling the virus. Shahidi has also called on the heads of chambers of commerce across the country to establish Coronavirus Committees for their respective regions to raise awareness and help people and organizations.

Meanwhile, the country's steel products output stood at 9.2 million tonnes in the past ten-month period of this year, jumping 97 percent compared to the corresponding period of the previous year.

In imports, the country has reported 3.984 million tonnes of steel during the first ten months of the current year, rising 21 percent year-on-year.

The ten-month steel products export has been reported at 5.6 million tonnes, up 9.1 percent year-on-year.

To curb the effects of sanctions in the steel industry, the country's roadmap requires domestic production potential and capability.
Oil prices were set for their worst weekly slump since the 2008 financial crisis, despite an oil-producing peak on Friday, as investors evaluated daunting demand forecast a production ramp-up by top producers. Reuters oil prices gained, 0.2 or 0.2 percent, at $33.52 a barrel at 0530 GMT after falling more than 7 percent on Thursday. For the week, Brent is set to fall around 21 percent, its biggest weekly weekly since December 2008, when it fell near 26 percent. U.S. West Texas Intermediate (WTI) crude futures fell more than 23 percent, falling more than 7 percent on Friday. According to the report published by the head of Oilfield installed and low extraction costs.”

According to the latest production report from Brazil's state-led oil company Petrobras set a fresh daily output record on Wednesday, the 10th anniversary of the largest offshore platform, and removed an estimated 150,000 barrels per day. The oilfield is located in the Persian Gulf and is owned by Iran and the United Arab Emirates (UAE). The production record was made on Thursday, January 13, and the oilfield is now producing an estimated 4.7 million barrels per day, surpassing the previous record set in September 2019.

January and was loaded at Khurnahar Yar on January 13. The Buzios Field, discovered in 2010, is the largest offshore field in Brazil and has an estimated potential of 1 billion barrels of oil. The field is operated by the state-controlled Petrobras.

Petrobras said it had invested over $20 billion in the Buzios Field, which is the largest offshore field in Brazil and one of the largest in the world. The field is located in the Santos Basin, approximately 150 kilometers offshore from the city of Santos.

Petrobras is a leader in Brazil's oil and gas industry and is one of the largest producers in the world. The company has been involved in several major projects in recent years, including the construction of the Buzios Field and the development of the Bacuri Field.

The rise in oil prices is being driven by expectations of a recovery in global demand, following the impact of the coronavirus pandemic on the oil market. The pandemic has caused a significant decline in demand, as travel restrictions and lockdowns have led to a decrease in oil consumption.

As the Covid-19 virus spreads around the world, oil demand is expected to remain weak, with many countries continuing to impose lockdowns and travel restrictions. This is expected to lead to a continued oversupply of oil on the market, which is expected to push down prices.

The rise in oil prices is also being driven by geopolitical factors, such as the tension between Iran and the United States over the issue of Iran's nuclear program. The tension has led to a deterioration in relations between the two countries, which has raised concerns about the possibility of further sanctions against Iran.

The rise in oil prices is also being driven by supply factors, such as the OPEC+ agreement to cut production. The group, which consists of the Organization of Petroleum Exporting Countries (OPEC) and non-OPEC producers, announced a production cut agreement in April 2020 to support oil prices.

The rise in oil prices is also being driven by the demand for oil as a hedge against inflation and economic uncertainty. As the coronavirus pandemic continues to impact the global economy, investors are looking for assets that can provide a hedge against uncertainty.
Another political resolution was set on July 4th, however, the Algerians still boycotted it as millions of them participated in huge protests. In response, President Tebboune offered a new initiative: a second-round runoff, replacing the long-serving president. The president promised that he would address the aspirations of the movement, a project that would be put to the people. The results of this initiative were released. President Tebboune also decreed a presidential pardon (February 2020) that included 3,470 incarcerated persons in various justice processes. The new president said that the pardon was a sign of his readiness to meet with protest leaders to listen to them (and) respond to their concerns. He said that his priority was to revise the constitution, adopting a new organic law and an electoral code, and to submit the revised constitution to Parliament and then to a popular referendum. The president promised that he would address the aspirations of the movement, a project that would be put to the people. The new law was adopted, and the president signed it.

What do you suggest as economic reforms?

As a reminder, the President of the Republic had emphasized the need for deepening the mechanisms of organization of the elections. The constitution to establish a new Algeria that corresponds to the aspirations of the movement, a project that would be put to the parliament and a referendum. Upon his inauguration as 8th president of Algeria, Mr. Tebboune extended his hand to the protesters, stressing he was ready to meet with protest leaders to listen to them (and) respond to their concerns. He said that his priority was to revise the constitution, adopting a new organic law and an electoral code, and to submit the revised constitution to Parliament and then to a popular referendum. The president promised that he would address the aspirations of the movement, a project that would be put to the people. The new law was adopted, and the president signed it.

Another political resolution was set on July 4th, however, the Algerians still boycotted it as millions of them participated in huge protests. In response, President Tebboune offered a new initiative: a second-round runoff, replacing the long-serving president. The president promised that he would address the aspirations of the movement, a project that would be put to the people. The results of this initiative were released. President Tebboune also decreed a presidential pardon (February 2020) that included 3,470 incarcerated persons in various justice processes. The new president said that the pardon was a sign of his readiness to meet with protest leaders to listen to them (and) respond to their concerns. He said that his priority was to revise the constitution, adopting a new organic law and an electoral code, and to submit the revised constitution to Parliament and then to a popular referendum. The president promised that he would address the aspirations of the movement, a project that would be put to the people. The new law was adopted, and the president signed it.

Another political resolution was set on July 4th, however, the Algerians still boycotted it as millions of them participated in huge protests. In response, President Tebboune offered a new initiative: a second-round runoff, replacing the long-serving president. The president promised that he would address the aspirations of the movement, a project that would be put to the people. The results of this initiative were released. President Tebboune also decreed a presidential pardon (February 2020) that included 3,470 incarcerated persons in various justice processes. The new president said that the pardon was a sign of his readiness to meet with protest leaders to listen to them (and) respond to their concerns. He said that his priority was to revise the constitution, adopting a new organic law and an electoral code, and to submit the revised constitution to Parliament and then to a popular referendum. The president promised that he would address the aspirations of the movement, a project that would be put to the people. The new law was adopted, and the president signed it.

Another political resolution was set on July 4th, however, the Algerians still boycotted it as millions of them participated in huge protests. In response, President Tebboune offered a new initiative: a second-round runoff, replacing the long-serving president. The president promised that he would address the aspirations of the movement, a project that would be put to the people. The results of this initiative were released. President Tebboune also decreed a presidential pardon (February 2020) that included 3,470 incarcerated persons in various justice processes. The new president said that the pardon was a sign of his readiness to meet with protest leaders to listen to them (and) respond to their concerns. He said that his priority was to revise the constitution, adopting a new organic law and an electoral code, and to submit the revised constitution to Parliament and then to a popular referendum. The president promised that he would address the aspirations of the movement, a project that would be put to the people. The new law was adopted, and the president signed it.
Analysts say airlines have been dealt another “body blow” by the travel ban.

There are fears that some weaker airlines could go bust. Norwegian Air is set to cancel 4,000 flights and temporarily lay off about half of its staff because of the coronavirus crisis. The UK, Ireland and other non-Schengen countries are unaffected. U.S. citizens are also exempt.

On Wednesday, U.S. President Donald Trump announced sweeping travel restrictions on 26 European countries in an attempt to combat the spread of coronavirus. The move came after the Italian government also imposed sweeping travel restrictions on 26 European countries in an attempt to combat the spread of coronavirus.

The extension will suit Iranian nationals who have to travel back to their (and it requires cooperation between the EU and the UK) in order to return to their home country for the visa expiration dates. Tehran’s embassy in Rome has said, “no problem” to stay up to 60 days more after their visa has expired.

The extension will suit Iranian nationals who have to travel back to their home country for the visa expiration dates. Tehran’s embassy in Rome has said, “no problem” to stay up to 60 days more after their visa has expired.

Iran and some South-East Asian countries are fully covered with a polychrome, mostly dark blue, glazed tilework which underpins its reputation as a living museum. The interior of the dome is inscrutable, visible by the travel ban.

The extension will suit Iranian nationals who have to travel back to their home country for the visa expiration dates. Tehran’s embassy in Rome has said, “no problem” to stay up to 60 days more after their visa has expired. The extension will suit Iranian nationals who have to travel back to their home country for the visa expiration dates. Tehran’s embassy in Rome has said, “no problem” to stay up to 60 days more after their visa has expired.
Climate emergency: global action ‘is way off track’ says UN head

Satellite images show how coronavirus dropped smog pollution in Italy

Chinese people, firms send new anti-corona aid to Iran

Iran breaks U.S. monopoly on aviation navigation charts

Iran thanks Japan for $23.5m help against COVID-19

Criminally endangered snapping turtle program breeds hope for survival

WORDS IN THE NEWS

Palestinian suicide bomber attack

(April 30, 2020)

A Palestinian suicide bomber has blown himself up outside a bar in Tel Aviv but injuring at least 5 people and 15 injured. Only hours before, the new Palestinian cabinet had promised to control violence. This report from David Chanzan.

The attack happened at one o’clock in the morning when a four hand grenade was thrown at the bar. There were more than 30 people inside the bar. At the same time, a number of young people packed into Mike’s Place, a popular night-stand in Tel Aviv. It appears that an armed Palestinian had sneaked inside. He then threw the grenade inside the bar.

Witnesses say the guards threw themselves onto the attack.

The local police say the attack was part of the ongoing conflict with the Palestinians. They also say that it was an act of revenge for the violence that has been on the rise in the area.

(For more details, please refer to the original article.)
Al Khalifa’s political exploitation of coronavirus, ignoring its obligations

Al Khalifa violated human rights after accepting such measures. Various reports have arrived from almost all the countries that the Al Khalifa regime has brought new movement forces to ensure its power and maintain its legitimacy. Al Khalifa refused to follow such an approach.

The Pentagon had announced earlier on Friday that the strikes targeted five weapons stores used by Iraqi groups that receive support from Iran's top anti-terrorism commander Lieutenant General Qassem Suleimani. Washington, Iraq condemns U.S. assault, in February (known as Black Sunday), would be a hot button issue associated with the silence of human communities.

Iraqi Parliament’s Security and Defense Committee – namely the findings of the Prosecutor of the International Criminal Court (ICC) – strongly criticized the US labeling of Palestinians in occupied Jerusalem al-Quds as “Arab residents,” stating that “the Palestinians are the owners of this land for thousands of years, and that they are meted in it and continue to remain in their land in historical Palestine, and therefore any attempt to label them as residents when they are the indigenous people of this land is politically and illegally wrong.”

The change in US terminology came amid increased animosity toward the Palestinians, which brokered a ceasefire in the war of 2006, calls on Tel Aviv to respect Beiruti Islamic movements, and has continued to this day. Extremist Hindus today, with their strong nationalism, can easily tolerate. Gandhi would have been offended had he been a British colonist, but the Muslims would not have accepted it. This is what can be noticed from Gandhi's remarks as well, “if you dissect me, I will not be separated from my religion. I love my country and have no wish to be separated from it.”

The British role in Indian policy against Muslims

Britain seemed victorious in pursuing its policy, as after a war, the Indian Muslims launched a struggle and Muslims increased to the point that Indian authorities were desperate to wipe them out. It should be noted that the root of causing division also affected Mahatma Gandhi. But how?

In 1921, Gandhi launched the civil disobedience movement. He believed that if the British government was favorable, people should not go to court and they should not pay any money. Gandhi’s ideas were not received in Indian society. After months of worry and anxiety, the government broke a 39-day stay of the movement.

Following a strong event, Gandhi dropped the movement forever. Jawaharlal Nehru said to Gandhi, “Now that you have stopped the strike at a time that seemed we had strengthened our positions and conveyed our protest, we are on an angry. After months of worry and anxiety, the government broke a 39-day stay of the movement.

It seems that India created roots in Britain’s policies and has continued to this day. Extremist Hindu today, with the help of the Hindu government, is trying to deprive Indian Muslims of citizenship under the CAA. The law that has been associated with the idea of partitioning these communities.

Indian Muslims are not ‘Bosnian’ and ‘Shia’—the widespread spreading of propaganda. Islam is not ‘Bosnian’ and ‘Shia’—the widespread spreading of propaganda. In fact, Muslims have faced severe discrimination and persecution by the Israeli authorities. Muslims have faced severe discrimination and persecution by the Israeli authorities.

Israel’s aerial attacks in Syria only escalate tensions in region: Top Russian official

Israel MP: U.S. using Israeli air space to threaten neighboring countries

The attacks come a day after more than a dozen Israeli fighter jets were killed in a series of strikes against Iran’s strategic sites in the region.

The attacks are the most provocative since the US-led anti-terror coalition launched in January, and come as reports suggest the US military could be planning a broader offensive against Iranian-backed groups in Syria.

Israel’s government has not commented on the attacks, but media reports have suggested the strikes were carried out by the Israeli military.

The strikes come amid ongoing tensions between Israel and Iran, with both countries stepping up their military operations in the region.

The strikes are likely to escalate tensions between Israel and Iran, with both countries stepping up their military operations in the region. Israel has repeatedly warned Iran of its activities in Syria, while Iran has denied any involvement in the conflict.

The strikes come amid ongoing tensions between Israel and Iran, with both countries stepping up their military operations in the region. Israel has repeatedly warned Iran of its activities in Syria, while Iran has denied any involvement in the conflict.

The strikes are likely to escalate tensions between Israel and Iran, with both countries stepping up their military operations in the region. Israel has repeatedly warned Iran of its activities in Syria, while Iran has denied any involvement in the conflict.

The strikes come amid ongoing tensions between Israel and Iran, with both countries stepping up their military operations in the region. Israel has repeatedly warned Iran of its activities in Syria, while Iran has denied any involvement in the conflict.

The strikes are likely to escalate tensions between Israel and Iran, with both countries stepping up their military operations in the region. Israel has repeatedly warned Iran of its activities in Syria, while Iran has denied any involvement in the conflict.
Iran football federation’s elections deferred

The Australian Grand Prix has been called off after teams and drivers forced the hand of Formula 1 bosses, with the Grand Prix, due to take place in Melbourne next weekend, now in doubt.

The race’s abandonment was not made official for an additional 90 minutes, with the FIA or associated suppliers, the statement said.

After the call, Trump tweeted that he told Abe “that we are facing an emergency, a national emergency,” and added at news conference in the wake of Abe’s announcement that “the IOC is monitoring the pandemic with the IOC, receiving advice from the World Health Organization, and coordinating with the government/the authorities.

Japan says Olympics on track as Abe and Trump talk on coronavirus

The IOC held a meeting of its executive board on Monday, following the cancellation of Track Melli’s training camp.

According to the list of applications, 538 athletes from 54 countries are taking part in the World Cup next two days.

The Iranian gymnast finished in third place with 14,500 points indicating a huge jump in confidence since her qualifying score.

Nagoya Oceans (JPN) – JAPAN N.T.

*Sepehr Mohammadi Kamalabadi (IRN)

Their elections were planned for the same flight although Hamilton and Mercedes team-mates Valtteri Bottas and George Russell were in the same flight.

*Leonardo De Melo Vieira Leite “Higuita” (BRA/KAZ)

The FFIRI have provided some documents and appealed to the Tehran Court of First Instance to assess and order the group of candidates to stop the elections.

The elections were to be held from March 12 through March 15. This World Cup also qualifies for the Tokyo 2020 Olympic Games.

In total, eight F1 workers have been assessed and tested for the coronavirus, with no cases positive for the virus in Melbourne.

Many F1 team members woke up thinking the race was going ahead, only to read news of its cancellation.

On Friday morning, a senior source confirmed to BBC Sport, which reported the information, that the race was still on.

But the plans changed later in the evening as several riders — including leading drivers — expressed their concerns about the issue of racing amid the risk of further cases of coronavirus in thetight-knit F1 paddock.

The Australian Grand Prix has been called off after teams and drivers forced the hand of Formula 1 bosses, with the Grand Prix, due to take place in Melbourne next weekend, now in doubt.

The race’s abandonment was not made official for an additional 90 minutes, with the FIA or associated suppliers, the statement said.

The statement cancelling the race was a majority of teams in the early hours of Friday morning after a McLaren team member tested positive for the coronavirus in Melbourne.

The race was abandoned after some drivers and team members had been placed in quarantine in their hotel for 14 days.

However, the physical and mental health and wellbeing of all those involved in the sport cannot be guaranteed if we continue to take part in the event.

According to the Futsal Planet website, Mohammadi will be the only Iranian player in the finals, as he did not receive offers from overseas clubs but I am concentrating on the domestic league.

Iran's senior men's futsal team have been candidate to become the Best National Team in the World. According to the Futsal Planet website, Mohammadi will compete with the nine other finalists to win the award.

The next race after Vietnam is scheduled to be the Dutch Grand Prix on 5 May, the start of a run of three races in four weekends that also includes the Spanish and Monaco events.

But with the coronavirus situation developing by the day, and countries imposing tighter restrictions on travel, it is impossible to know at this stage whether any of those races can go ahead.

The IOC said it was determined to hold a “safe and secure Games as planned toward the opening day of July 24.”
Iran's coronavirus cartoon contest receives submissions from over 40 countries

A scene from director Amir-Naderi’s 1973 drama “Harmonica”.

A scene from director Ali Mosaffa's 2015 film “Pigtail & Kaj”.

A copy of “The Red Cat, The Black Cat”, a collection of short stories on animals and human-animal relationships from world literature translated into Persian by Asadollah Amrai.

A scene from director Edgar Allan Poe’s “The Black Cat” and German writer Louis Buller’s “Miracle and the Beast” among the stories.

A copy of “The Red Cat, the Black Cat”, a collection of short stories focusing on animals and human-animal relationships by writers from around the world is published in Persian in a book entitled “The Red Cat, the Black Cat”. The book is a translation of the Persian edition, which includes 24 stories, has been released in Persian by eminent Iranian translator Asadollah Amrai.

The book carries stories about people who don’t want animals to enter their homes or to treat them violently, Amrai wrote in a preface to the collection.

“This is the first time a collection is published with stories about animals and human-animal relationships in Persian language.”

The exhibition named “Kado Art” will be available for 24 hours on moviparf, free of charges. The institute has also offered some of the books and audiobooks on the website.

Let the health and safety of our company members be always our top priority, and we are taking precautions to protect everyone who works on our productions around the world,” the studio said.

“I think everyone reacts to their own horror stories, and I know it is a real horror story, but it is not that bad,” said in a video message. “They’re not even that sick. They’re fine and there was no cause for major concern.”

“Defeat Coronavirus International Cartoon Contest has so far received submissions from over 40 countries, including Germany, the US, the UK, France, Italy, and Canada. "Cover" is about two workers who are carrying the body of their dead colleague, Ahmad, to his home when he unexpectedly dies in the middle of a mountain from Bangladesh.

“Cover” is about two workers who are carrying the body of their dead colleague, Ahmad, to his home when he unexpectedly dies in the middle of a mountain from Bangladesh.

A copy of “The Red Cat, the Black Cat”, a collection of short stories focusing on animals and human-animal relationships by writers from around the world is published in Persian in a book entitled “The Red Cat, the Black Cat”. The book is a translation of the Persian edition, which includes 24 stories, has been released in Persian by eminent Iranian translator Asadollah Amrai.

The book carries stories about people who don’t want animals to enter their homes or to treat them violently, Amrai wrote in a preface to the collection.

“This is the first time a collection is published with stories about animals and human-animal relationships in Persian language.”

The exhibition named “Kado Art” will be available for 24 hours on moviparf, free of charges. The institute has also offered some of the books and audiobooks on the website.

Let the health and safety of our company members be always our top priority, and we are taking precautions to protect everyone who works on our productions around the world,” the studio said.

“I think everyone reacts to their own horror stories, and I know it is a real horror story, but it is not that bad,” said in a video message. “They’re not even that sick. They’re fine and there was no cause for major concern.”

“Defeat Coronavirus International Cartoon Contest has so far received submissions from over 40 countries, including Germany, the US, the UK, France, Italy, and Canada. "Cover" is about two workers who are carrying the body of their dead colleague, Ahmad, to his home when he unexpectedly dies in the middle of a mountain from Bangladesh.

“Cover” is about two workers who are carrying the body of their dead colleague, Ahmad, to his home when he unexpectedly dies in the middle of a mountain from Bangladesh.

A copy of “The Red Cat, the Black Cat”, a collection of short stories focusing on animals and human-animal relationships by writers from around the world is published in Persian in a book entitled “The Red Cat, the Black Cat”. The book is a translation of the Persian edition, which includes 24 stories, has been released in Persian by eminent Iranian translator Asadollah Amrai.

The book carries stories about people who don’t want animals to enter their homes or to treat them violently, Amrai wrote in a preface to the collection.

“This is the first time a collection is published with stories about animals and human-animal relationships in Persian language.”

The exhibition named “Kado Art” will be available for 24 hours on moviparf, free of charges. The institute has also offered some of the books and audiobooks on the website.

Let the health and safety of our company members be always our top priority, and we are taking precautions to protect everyone who works on our productions around the world,” the studio said.

“I think everyone reacts to their own horror stories, and I know it is a real horror story, but it is not that bad,” said in a video message. “They’re not even that sick. They’re fine and there was no cause for major concern.”

“Defeat Coronavirus International Cartoon Contest has so far received submissions from over 40 countries, including Germany, the US, the UK, France, Italy, and Canada. "Cover" is about two workers who are carrying the body of their dead colleague, Ahmad, to his home when he unexpectedly dies in the middle of a mountain from Bangladesh.

“Cover” is about two workers who are carrying the body of their dead colleague, Ahmad, to his home when he unexpectedly dies in the middle of a mountain from Bangladesh.

A copy of “The Red Cat, the Black Cat”, a collection of short stories focusing on animals and human-animal relationships by writers from around the world is published in Persian in a book entitled “The Red Cat, the Black Cat”. The book is a translation of the Persian edition, which includes 24 stories, has been released in Persian by eminent Iranian translator Asadollah Amrai.

The book carries stories about people who don’t want animals to enter their homes or to treat them violently, Amrai wrote in a preface to the collection.

“This is the first time a collection is published with stories about animals and human-animal relationships in Persian language.”

The exhibition named “Kado Art” will be available for 24 hours on moviparf, free of charges. The institute has also offered some of the books and audiobooks on the website.

Let the health and safety of our company members be always our top priority, and we are taking precautions to protect everyone who works on our productions around the world,” the studio said.

“I think everyone reacts to their own horror stories, and I know it is a real horror story, but it is not that bad,” said in a video message. “They’re not even that sick. They’re fine and there was no cause for major concern.”

“Defeat Coronavirus International Cartoon Contest has so far received submissions from over 40 countries, including Germany, the US, the UK, France, Italy, and Canada. "Cover" is about two workers who are carrying the body of their dead colleague, Ahmad, to his home when he unexpectedly dies in the middle of a mountain from Bangladesh.

“Cover” is about two workers who are carrying the body of their dead colleague, Ahmad, to his home when he unexpectedly dies in the middle of a mountain from Bangladesh.

A copy of “The Red Cat, the Black Cat”, a collection of short stories focusing on animals and human-animal relationships by writers from around the world is published in Persian in a book entitled “The Red Cat, the Black Cat”. The book is a translation of the Persian edition, which includes 24 stories, has been released in Persian by eminent Iranian translator Asadollah Amrai.

The book carries stories about people who don’t want animals to enter their homes or to treat them violently, Amrai wrote in a preface to the collection.

“This is the first time a collection is published with stories about animals and human-animal relationships in Persian language.”

The exhibition named “Kado Art” will be available for 24 hours on moviparf, free of charges. The institute has also offered some of the books and audiobooks on the website.

Let the health and safety of our company members be always our top priority, and we are taking precautions to protect everyone who works on our productions around the world,” the studio said.

“I think everyone reacts to their own horror stories, and I know it is a real horror story, but it is not that bad,” said in a video message. “They’re not even that sick. They’re fine and there was no cause for major concern.”

“Defeat Coronavirus International Cartoon Contest has so far received submissions from over 40 countries, including Germany, the US, the UK, France, Italy, and Canada. "Cover" is about two workers who are carrying the body of their dead colleague, Ahmad, to his home when he unexpectedly dies in the middle of a mountain from Bangladesh.

“Cover” is about two workers who are carrying the body of their dead colleague, Ahmad, to his home when he unexpectedly dies in the middle of a mountain from Bangladesh.

A copy of “The Red Cat, the Black Cat”, a collection of short stories focusing on animals and human-animal relationships by writers from around the world is published in Persian in a book entitled “The Red Cat, the Black Cat”. The book is a translation of the Persian edition, which includes 24 stories, has been released in Persian by eminent Iranian translator Asadollah Amrai.

The book carries stories about people who don’t want animals to enter their homes or to treat them violently, Amrai wrote in a preface to the collection.

“This is the first time a collection is published with stories about animals and human-animal relationships in Persian language.”

The exhibition named “Kado Art” will be available for 24 hours on moviparf, free of charges. The institute has also offered some of the books and audiobooks on the website.

Let the health and safety of our company members be always our top priority, and we are taking precautions to protect everyone who works on our productions around the world,” the studio said.

“I think everyone reacts to their own horror stories, and I know it is a real horror story, but it is not that bad,” said in a video message. “They’re not even that sick. They’re fine and there was no cause for major concern.”

“Defeat Coronavirus International Cartoon Contest has so far received submissions from over 40 countries, including Germany, the US, the UK, France, Italy, and Canada. "Cover" is about two workers who are carrying the body of their dead colleague, Ahmad, to his home when he unexpectedly dies in the middle of a mountain from Bangladesh.

“Cover” is about two workers who are carrying the body of their dead colleague, Ahmad, to his home when he unexpectedly dies in the middle of a mountain from Bangladesh.

A copy of “The Red Cat, the Black Cat”, a collection of short stories focusing on animals and human-animal relationships by writers from around the world is published in Persian in a book entitled “The Red Cat, the Black Cat”. The book is a translation of the Persian edition, which includes 24 stories, has been released in Persian by eminent Iranian translator Asadollah Amrai.

The book carries stories about people who don’t want animals to enter their homes or to treat them violently, Amrai wrote in a preface to the collection.

“This is the first time a collection is published with stories about animals and human-animal relationships in Persian language.”

The exhibition named “Kado Art” will be available for 24 hours on moviparf, free of charges. The institute has also offered some of the books and audiobooks on the website.

Let the health and safety of our company members be always our top priority, and we are taking precautions to protect everyone who works on our productions around the world,” the studio said.

“I think everyone reacts to their own horror stories, and I know it is a real horror story, but it is not that bad,” said in a video message. “They’re not even that sick. They’re fine and there was no cause for major concern.”

“Defeat Coronavirus International Cartoon Contest has so far received submissions from over 40 countries, including Germany, the US, the UK, France, Italy, and Canada. "Cover" is about two workers who are carrying the body of their dead colleague, Ahmad, to his home when he unexpectedly dies in the middle of a mountain from Bangladesh.

“Cover” is about two workers who are carrying the body of their dead colleague, Ahmad, to his home when he unexpectedly dies in the middle of a mountain from Bangladesh.