Europe protests on the rise as Ukraine war drags on

By Ali Karbalaei

TEHRAN - People take to the streets in Spain and Italy as protests show no sign of abating in Western Europe.

Western Europe is seeing a sharp rise in protests and strikes as workers complain that the cost of living is strongly outweighing their income. The energy crisis that resulted from the Ukrainian war is to blame.

In Italy people have marched through the streets of the capital Rome to demand better working conditions as well as an increase of 300 euros in their monthly salary. They are also demanding the government raise the minimum wage to ten euros per hour.

Footage shows people marching with flared candles and signs that read “Work to live, not live to work.”

The protesters have blamed the government’s policies towards the Ukraine war, calling for a peaceful solution to the crisis. The conflict erupted in February last year, following Russia’s invasion of Ukraine.

The Thai government too is facing a rising wave of protests as strikes and strikes continue across the country.

In Italy people have marched through the streets of the capital Rome to demand better working conditions as well as an increase of 300 euros in their monthly salary. They are also demanding the government raise the minimum wage to ten euros per hour.

Footage shows people marching with flared candles and signs that read “Work to live, not live to work.”

The protesters have blamed the government’s policies towards the Ukraine war, calling for a peaceful solution to the crisis. The conflict erupted in February last year, following Russia’s invasion of Ukraine.

The Thai government too is facing a rising wave of protests as strikes and strikes continue across the country.

In Italy people have marched through the streets of the capital Rome to demand better working conditions as well as an increase of 300 euros in their monthly salary. They are also demanding the government raise the minimum wage to ten euros per hour.

Footage shows people marching with flared candles and signs that read “Work to live, not live to work.”

The protesters have blamed the government’s policies towards the Ukraine war, calling for a peaceful solution to the crisis. The conflict erupted in February last year, following Russia’s invasion of Ukraine.

The Thai government too is facing a rising wave of protests as strikes and strikes continue across the country.

In Italy people have marched through the streets of the capital Rome to demand better working conditions as well as an increase of 300 euros in their monthly salary. They are also demanding the government raise the minimum wage to ten euros per hour.

Footage shows people marching with flared candles and signs that read “Work to live, not live to work.”

The protesters have blamed the government’s policies towards the Ukraine war, calling for a peaceful solution to the crisis. The conflict erupted in February last year, following Russia’s invasion of Ukraine.

The Thai government too is facing a rising wave of protests as strikes and strikes continue across the country.

In Italy people have marched through the streets of the capital Rome to demand better working conditions as well as an increase of 300 euros in their monthly salary. They are also demanding the government raise the minimum wage to ten euros per hour.

Footage shows people marching with flared candles and signs that read “Work to live, not live to work.”

The protesters have blamed the government’s policies towards the Ukraine war, calling for a peaceful solution to the crisis. The conflict erupted in February last year, following Russia’s invasion of Ukraine.

The Thai government too is facing a rising wave of protests as strikes and strikes continue across the country.

In Italy people have marched through the streets of the capital Rome to demand better working conditions as well as an increase of 300 euros in their monthly salary. They are also demanding the government raise the minimum wage to ten euros per hour.

Footage shows people marching with flared candles and signs that read “Work to live, not live to work.”

The protesters have blamed the government’s policies towards the Ukraine war, calling for a peaceful solution to the crisis. The conflict erupted in February last year, following Russia’s invasion of Ukraine.

The Thai government too is facing a rising wave of protests as strikes and strikes continue across the country.

In Italy people have marched through the streets of the capital Rome to demand better working conditions as well as an increase of 300 euros in their monthly salary. They are also demanding the government raise the minimum wage to ten euros per hour.

Footage shows people marching with flared candles and signs that read “Work to live, not live to work.”

The protesters have blamed the government’s policies towards the Ukraine war, calling for a peaceful solution to the crisis. The conflict erupted in February last year, following Russia’s invasion of Ukraine.

The Thai government too is facing a rising wave of protests as strikes and strikes continue across the country.

In Italy people have marched through the streets of the capital Rome to demand better working conditions as well as an increase of 300 euros in their monthly salary. They are also demanding the government raise the minimum wage to ten euros per hour.

Footage shows people marching with flared candles and signs that read “Work to live, not live to work.”

The protesters have blamed the government’s policies towards the Ukraine war, calling for a peaceful solution to the crisis. The conflict erupted in February last year, following Russia’s invasion of Ukraine.

The Thai government too is facing a rising wave of protests as strikes and strikes continue across the country.

In Italy people have marched through the streets of the capital Rome to demand better working conditions as well as an increase of 300 euros in their monthly salary. They are also demanding the government raise the minimum wage to ten euros per hour.

Footage shows people marching with flared candles and signs that read “Work to live, not live to work.”

The protesters have blamed the government’s policies towards the Ukraine war, calling for a peaceful solution to the crisis. The conflict erupted in February last year, following Russia’s invasion of Ukraine.
In the following column, we take a look at some important contents and views in the Thursday Iranian newspapers.

The return of the West to the Sultan channel

The president of the Islamic Republic of Iran, Ayatollah Seyed Ali Khamenei, has received a dossier from the foreign minister. The dossier emphasizes the achievements of the Islamic Revolution in terms of regional and international relations. In his statement, the president emphasized the importance of maintaining and strengthening the policies of the Islamic Republic of Iran. He also highlighted the need for continuous efforts towards achieving the goals set for the development and prosperity of the country.

Persian Gulf waterway

The Persian Gulf is one of the most important waterways in the world, and it plays a crucial role in international trade. The region is strategically important, and any disruption to the waterway could have significant consequences. The Iranian government has been vigilant in its efforts to ensure the security and stability of the waterway. The Iranian navy has been active in patrolling the area, and it has been successful in preventing any potential threats.

Crisis in Ukraine

The crisis in Ukraine has been a significant issue for the international community. The situation has been tense, and there have been concerns about the possibility of a military escalation. The Iranian government has been actively involved in efforts to resolve the crisis, and it has been in contact with the parties involved. There have been discussions about the possibility of a peaceful resolution, and the Iranian government has been working towards achieving this goal.

Public opinion

Public opinion is an essential factor in shaping the policies of any government. The Iranian government has been keeping a close watch on public opinion and has been responding to the concerns and demands of the people. The government has been working towards improving living standards and addressing the challenges facing the country. It has also been emphasizing the importance of unity and social harmony.

Foreign relations

Foreign relations are a crucial aspect of any government's policy. The Iranian government has been active in its foreign relations, and it has been successful in establishing and maintaining strong diplomatic connections with other countries. The government has been working towards achieving its goals, and it has been successful in protecting the interests of the Islamic Republic of Iran.

International cooperation

International cooperation is essential in addressing global challenges. The Iranian government has been active in its efforts to cooperate with other countries and international organizations. The government has been successful in achieving its goals, and it has been recognized for its efforts in promoting peace, stability, and development in the region and beyond.

The role of the Islamic Republic of Iran

The Islamic Republic of Iran plays a significant role in the international community. The government has been active in its efforts to achieve its goals and has been successful in protecting the interests of the Islamic Republic of Iran. The government has been working towards achieving its goals, and it has been successful in protecting the interests of the Islamic Republic of Iran.

The challenges facing the Islamic Republic of Iran

The Islamic Republic of Iran faces significant challenges, including economic instability, social unrest, and political opposition. The government has been working towards addressing these challenges, and it has been successful in achieving its goals. The government has been working towards achieving its goals, and it has been successful in protecting the interests of the Islamic Republic of Iran.
Iranian parliament members visit site of deadly border attack

TEHRAN — A parliamentary delegation from the National Security and Foreign Affairs Committee paid a visit to the location of the deadly armed attack that took place earlier this month on the border between Iran and Pakistan. Shahrar Aheidian, a member of the Committee, led the delegation. The visit took place on Thursday.

Last week, five Iranian border guards were killed and another five wounded in an attack on the border region of Māk-Samālīn in Sīstān-Baluchestan province. Two of the victims died the next day from their wounds and the remaining three are in critical condition.

The troops serving in the border region of Sīstān have been under attack from a group of gunmen who were trying to cross the border, according to the border post, the Iranian police said, adding that the terrorists fled the scene after sustaining heavy losses, according to Tasnim.

The attack took place in Sīrān County in the province of Sīstān-Baluchestan, away from the Pakistani border. The Interior Minister, the National Security and Foreign Affairs, the Iranian police and the commander of the Iranian border guards described the event as a border attack.

Aheidian said the Iranian troops resisted from their location at the border post to repel the attack. He said, “Five people of the border guards were stationed in the turret but were killed, and their bodies are still in the turret, which has been destroyed by the group for about an hour.” The sources added that the five Iranian border guards to surrender, but the brave border guards of our country preferred martyrdom to surrender. The news desk of the Al-Araji said, according to the parliamentary news agency, that the five Iranian border guards were killed in the attack.

He also said that the assailants were backed by the level of the Tiger. Based on the geographical conditions of this area, it is clear that the foreign services on the other side of the border had a close cooperation. This group is known, and definitely helped them in providing equipment.” He added, “The authorities should pay special attention to equipping the country with modern, to protect Iranian border guards, and I expect the Iranian government in the parliament to set up the plan to strengthen the border guards and of the artillery arsenal of the border guards of the Republic of Iran can be strengthened in terms of quality and quantity.”

The delegation also visited the site of the clash, with the planning of the border commander and the border guard commander. The two senior border guard commanders around the border guard helped as soon as possible. The border guards gathered the enemy’s location in different places, some of the bad guys were injured in this conflict.

He called on Pakistan to ensure border security. “The expectation of the Islamic Republic of Iran from Pakistan is that it pays attention to the security of the border and the other side of the border, but today only the brave border guards of our country preferred martyrdom to surrender, but the racist border guards of Pakistan did nothing to help them.”

The two senior diplomats emphasized the importance of security cooperation between Iran and Iraq, and the top diplomat of the Islamic Republic of Iran, Iran and Iraq should take measures to ensure security along their borders, but today only the brave border guards of our country preferred martyrdom to surrender, but the racist border guards of Pakistan did nothing to help them. Maleki, who is a member of the Islamic Revolution Guards Corps (IRGC), has said Iraq has made a serious commitment to security cooperation. Khatib said Iran has recently detained a terrorist group that tried to cross the western borders of Iran. “With the cooperation of the new Iraqi government and the guarantees given, we hope to see security on the western borders and the non-repetition of such unfortunate events.”

The APC Board trip will be concluded on the 10th day of Asian Paralympic Games in 2023, which has been completed in Tokyo, and we should do our best to develop our Asian Paralympic Movement. However, our Movement faces challenges such as the COVID-19 Pandemic or financial issues but we have solved them with positive attitudes and energy. Our athletes are the main source of this energy, which always sends us positive vibes, "he stated.

Asian Para-Athletes of 20-29 Age - Iranian minister of the Islamic Republic of Iran, and a member mentioned Iran as one of the most developed NPCs in the region which has been umbrellas of the Paralympic Games and World Championships. It is the APC President’s second trip to the country since the 15th National Paralympic Day, which were organized successfully in October 2022. The APC Board trip will be concluded on Monday.
Commodities worth almost $3b traded at TME in a month

TEHRAN – During the past Iranian calendar month (ended on May 27) Iran Mercantile Exchange (TSE) witnessed transactions of 13,289,966 tons of commodities and 1,075 vehicles with a total trading value of almost $3 billion on its physical market, registering growths of 217 percent in volume and 175 percent in volume of trades compared with the month before that.

One of the shortcomings of export is that the production of flowers and ornamental plants does not follow a permanent trend, and for this reason, we cannot have a constant and permanent export of these products throughout the year and due to the temporary stoppage of the production of the flowers and ornamental plants, we cannot meet expectations of the export market," he further complained.

From page 11, a number of oil and gas wells in Iran exceeds 3,500, he noted, adding that 70 percent of the oil fields and 65 percent of the country's oilfields were discovered after the 1979 Islamic Revolution.

According to the NIOC head, the discovery of hydrocarbon reserves has witnessed a considerable rise over the last 40 years. The negative impacts of the U.S. sanctions, Iran has been taking new measures for ramping up its oil and gas production and exports over the past few years.

In this regard, NIOC has signed numerous agreements with Iranian universities and research centers for research in various fields of geophysics, geochemistry, unconventional hydrocarbons, and lifting.

Iran & Uzbekistan are negotiating establishment of a joint free zone between the two countries.

The planning of the Iran-Uzbekistan business conference with the presence of officials from both countries is underway during the visit of President Miriyayev to Tehran.
Protests against the rise as Ukraine war drags on

From page 1 a military alliance’s expansion on its borders, launched what it called a “special military operation.”

Western sanctions on Russia’s gas exports have contributed to inflation across Western Europe with the sharp rise in energy costs, spiking the record inflation levels.

As Western governments send more weapons into the war in Ukraine instead of seeking a peaceful resolution, they are turning on their governments for prolonging the conflict arguing it is the average European home that is feeling the dire financial consequences of the inflation levels.

Speaking to the AFP news agency one of the many protesters in Rome, Valentino Coso, called on the government to seek a peaceful solution and to stop sending arms to its neighbor “we believe “we believe “we believe ““the warming policies of our government are the main cause of the high inflation.”

Others struck a similar tone, such as Giuseppi Simeonetti who said “the only way to achieve peace is for our government to promise a new constitution that limits the ability of families with low wages to pay their bills and all illegal immigration that was organized to express the public education " swath is the enem of the people and the working class” she said.

simaral

Davita Brav also said funds are ending up in the pockets of private military contractors. "There is a hungry market for mercenaries," one official said, "inflation that has reached 12%.

The prices of basic necessities have exceeded double the inflation level. The utility and water bills are not paid because the families cannot sustain the cost of living in Italy."

There is a similar pattern among protesters across Western Europe who are hitting the streets or going on strike with a common argument that amid the rising inflation, their salaries (in Italy) for the same work have not risen and are not rising in line with the inflation rate.

Meanwhile in Spain, teachers and healthcare professionals joined forces in walking out of the classroom, in front of the Ministry of Health and the Ministry of Education, sounding the capital Madrid, echoing similar demands by protesters across Western Europe for better working conditions.

The demonstration, held in protest of cuts to education and health budgets, and slogans such as "No to war with health and education."

Among the many signs held up at the protest read "Teachers fighting". Teaching, "Health education, and no privatization!" and "No more investment in arms and war生产的."

After the Spanish-American war ended with the Treaty of Paris in 1898, Spain formally relinquished control of Cuba American officials denied Cuba a seat at the Paris peace conference.

In 1901, the U.S. government passed the Platt Amendment, part of an Army Appropriations Bill. In its section 7 it read: "That to enable the government of the Republic of Cuba to maintain an adequate army and navy, and to defend the independence of Cuba, and to protect the people thereof, as is now done in the United States, the government of Cuba will sell or lease to the United States lands necessary for coaling or naval stations at certain specified points to be agreed upon with the President of the United States."

After the Platt Amendment was incorporated into the 1902 Cuban Constitution.ares serafin

Wood named President William McKinley to Cuba as military governor, told President Theodore Roosevelt. "There is, of course, little of no red independent unity left under the Platt Amendment. During the invasion of Cuban troops carried out by Cuban exiles at the Bay of Pigs in April of 1961 with the support of the U.S. government Washington condemned the invasion and declared Cuba a "Revolutionary Country." The United Nations called for an end to the war in Vietnam.

In the 1970s and 1980s, two decades of the 20th century the base was also used to house Cuban and Haitian refugees fleeing their country who were intercepted on the high seas. Since Jan, 2002, the base has housed the Guantánamo Detainees, captured during the U.S. invasion to Afghanistan, have been detained in Cuba, and to protect the people thereof, as is now done in the United States, the government of Cuba will sell or lease to the United States lands necessary for coaling or naval stations at certain specified points to be agreed upon with the President of the United States."

Since 1959, the Cuban government has stated its desire to end the lease on Guantánamo, a request that the U.S. has systematically ignored. The leases remain imprisoned at Guantánamo Bay under conditions under which the leased was signed.

Several human rights organizations such as Amnesty International, the International Committee of the Red Cross, Amnesty International, and Human Rights Watch, as well as the United Nations have condemned the treatment of detainees at Guantánamo, several of whom have committed suicide rather than accept the conditions at the detention camp.

Since 1959, the Cuban government has stated its desire to end the lease on Guantánamo, a request that the U.S. has systematically ignored. The leases remain imprisoned at Guantánamo Bay under conditions under which the leased was signed.

Since 1955, the Cuban government has stated its desire to end the lease on Guantánamo, a request that the U.S. has systematically ignored. The leases remain imprisoned at Guantánamo Bay under conditions under which the leased was signed.

The treaty’s effects have been felt in every corner of the globe. The US and Department of Defense have had a longstanding goal of developing an off-the-shelf military system that can be rapidly deployed when necessary, often in response to a sudden crisis or war. The Pentagon’s attempts to reach out to China, the world’s largest arms exporter, to discuss the potential for cooperation have been met with little progress.

The Pentagon’s efforts have been met with skepticism from Chinese authorities, who have been more inclined to focus on their own domestic defense industry and are less interested in pursuing arms sales with the US. The US and China have been engaged in a tense rivalry over the control of the Asia-Pacific region, with both countries investing in military capabilities to assert dominance in the region.

The US has been working to build up its military presence in the region, including in the Pacific, where China has been increasing its military activities, particularly in the South China Sea. China, on the other hand, has been expanding its military capabilities and has been increasingly assertive in asserting its territorial claims in the region.

The US has been working to build up its military presence in the region, including in the Pacific, where China has been increasing its military activities, particularly in the South China Sea. China, on the other hand, has been expanding its military capabilities and has been increasingly assertive in asserting its territorial claims in the region.

The US has been working to build up its military presence in the region, including in the Pacific, where China has been increasing its military activities, particularly in the South China Sea. China, on the other hand, has been expanding its military capabilities and has been increasingly assertive in asserting its territorial claims in the region.

The US has been working to build up its military presence in the region, including in the Pacific, where China has been increasing its military activities, particularly in the South China Sea. China, on the other hand, has been expanding its military capabilities and has been increasingly assertive in asserting its territorial claims in the region.

The US has been working to build up its military presence in the region, including in the Pacific, where China has been increasing its military activities, particularly in the South China Sea. China, on the other hand, has been expanding its military capabilities and has been increasingly assertive in asserting its territorial claims in the region.
Iran’s Aras Geopark gains global recognition

Iranian, Afghan handicrafts in joint exhibition

Tourism

UNESCO sites at a glance

Kakadu National Park

Kakadu National Park is a living cultural landscape with exceptional natural and cultural values. Kakadu has been home to approximately 60,000 Aboriginal people for over 65,000 years. Kakadu National Park is the largest national park in Australia and one of the least impacted areas of monsoon tropical rainforest. It is home to over 3,500 production and industrial facilities, with over 3,500 production and industrial facilities. The park's unique landscape, rich history, and fascinating fauna make it a remarkable destination for visitors. The park's extensive areas of savanna woodlands, monsoon tropical rainforests, and mangrove swamps provide habitat for a diverse range of flora and fauna, including over 25,000 species of plants and over 2,000 species of birds. The park is a UNESCO World Heritage site, recognized for its outstanding cultural and natural values. The park includes numerous ecosystems and landscapes, making it a truly unique destination for nature lovers and outdoor enthusiasts. The park is known for its stunning scenery, diverse wildlife, and rich cultural heritage, making it a must-visit destination for anyone interested in exploring the beauty of Australia's landscapes and cultures.

New handicraft hubs gain national status

TEHRAN – Two villages and a city have been designated as national handicraft hubs in Iran, the Cultural Heritage, Tourism and Handicrafts Organization has said.

Kordi and Tang-e Chogan, both in the southern province of Fars, and the city of Shiraz, also in Fars province, were named a national city of handicrafts, the report added.

Compared with the same period a year earlier, the figure represents some 30 percent growth, Jalali said.

The Islamic Republic Exported $400 Million Worth of Handicrafts during the First Ten Months of the Current Year, Which Shows a Growth, Jalali said.

Tourist attractions in Iran, CHTN reported on Saturday.

According to the Ministry of Cultural Heritage, Tourism and Handicrafts, Iran has the most historic sites and towns registered with the World Craft Council (WCC), followed by China with seven, Chile with four, and India with three designations.

The WCC-Asia-Pacific Region designated Shiraz, Malayer, Zanjan, and the village of Qassemabad, which is on the list of historic places in Iran, the WCC-Asia-Pacific Region designated Shiraz, Malayer, Zanjan, and the village of Qassemabad, which is on the list of historic places in Iran.

Alborz puts potential to become industrial tourism destination

Alborz province is surrounded by Mazandaran, Tehran, Markazi, and Qazvin provinces. Its name is derived from the Alborz Mountains. A significant part of the mountain is located in the northeastern region.

The mountain is the Kiyamaki mountain, which is one of the largest in the world's tropics, Kakadu’s rock art provides a window into the history and traditions preserved by local communities in these extreme conditions. Some of the unique species found in these deserts include hyenas, gazelles, sand cats, and desert foxes, as well as rare plants such as spiky bushes and reeds that grow in the presence of the most iconic landscapes in the heart of wilderness.

Voyagers may also discover a wealth of history and traditions preserved by local communities in the desert. Ancient cities, water reservoirs, and caravanserais that once served as important trade routes for traders and travelers can be found on the margins of the Iranian deserts. One of the best ways to experience the beauty and diversity of the Iranian deserts is to join a guided tour or adventure trip. Guided tours offer a chance to see hidden corners of the desert region while learning about the traditions and cultures of the local tribes.

Many tour guides believe that Iranian deserts offer a once-in-a-lifetime adventure. The unique landscape, rich history, and fascinating fauna make it a remarkable destination for visitors. The park's extensive areas of savanna woodlands, monsoon tropical rainforests, and mangrove swamps provide habitat for a diverse range of flora and fauna, including over 25,000 species of plants and over 2,000 species of birds.

The park is known for its stunning scenery, diverse wildlife, and rich cultural heritage, making it a must-visit destination for anyone interested in exploring the beauty of Australia's landscapes and cultures.

Iranian, Afghan handicrafts in joint exhibition

TOURISM

UNESCO sites at a glance

Kakadu National Park

Kakadu National Park is a living cultural landscape with exceptional natural and cultural values. Kakadu has been home to approximately 60,000 Aboriginal people for over 65,000 years. Kakadu National Park is the largest national park in Australia and one of the least impacted areas of monsoon tropical rainforest. It is home to over 3,500 production and industrial facilities, with over 3,500 production and industrial facilities. The park's unique landscape, rich history, and fascinating fauna make it a remarkable destination for visitors. The park's extensive areas of savanna woodlands, monsoon tropical rainforests, and mangrove swamps provide habitat for a diverse range of flora and fauna, including over 25,000 species of plants and over 2,000 species of birds. The park is a UNESCO World Heritage site, recognized for its outstanding cultural and natural values. The park includes numerous ecosystems and landscapes, making it a truly unique destination for nature lovers and outdoor enthusiasts. The park is known for its stunning scenery, diverse wildlife, and rich cultural heritage, making it a must-visit destination for anyone interested in exploring the beauty of Australia's landscapes and cultures.

New handicraft hubs gain national status

TEHRAN – Two villages and a city have been designated as national handicraft hubs in Iran, the Cultural Heritage, Tourism and Handicrafts Organization has said.

Kordi and Tang-e Chogan, both in the southern province of Fars, and the city of Shiraz, also in Fars province, were named a national city of handicrafts, the report added.

Compared with the same period a year earlier, the figure represents some 30 percent growth, Jalali said.

The Islamic Republic Exported $400 Million Worth of Handicrafts during the First Ten Months of the Current Year, which shows a 30 percent increase compared to the previous ten months of the previous year.

Iran exported some $320 million worth of handicrafts during the past Iranian year ($400 million during the first ten months of the current year, which shows a growth, Jalali said.

Tourist attractions in Iran, CHTN reported on Saturday.

According to the Ministry of Cultural Heritage, Tourism and Handicrafts, Iran has the most historic sites and towns registered with the World Craft Council (WCC), followed by China with seven, Chile with four, and India with three designations.

The WCC-Asia-Pacific Region designated Shiraz, Malayer, Zanjan, and the village of Qassemabad, which is on the list of historic places in Iran, the WCC-Asia-Pacific Region designated Shiraz, Malayer, Zanjan, and the village of Qassemabad, which is on the list of historic places in Iran.

Alborz puts potential to become industrial tourism destination

Alborz province is surrounded by Mazandaran, Tehran, Markazi, and Qazvin provinces. Its name is derived from the Alborz Mountains. A significant part of the mountain is located in the northeastern region.

The mountain is the Kiyamaki mountain, which is one of the largest in the world's tropics, Kakadu’s rock art provides a window into the history and traditions preserved by local communities in these extreme conditions. Some of the unique species found in these deserts include hyenas, gazelles, sand cats, and desert foxes, as well as rare plants such as spiky bushes and reeds that grow in the presence of the most iconic landscapes in the heart of wilderness.

Voyagers may also discover a wealth of history and traditions preserved by local communities in the desert. Ancient cities, water reservoirs, and caravanserais that once served as important trade routes for traders and travelers can be found on the margins of the Iranian deserts. One of the best ways to experience the beauty and diversity of the Iranian deserts is to join a guided tour or adventure trip. Guided tours offer a chance to see hidden corners of the desert region while learning about the traditions and cultures of the local tribes.

Many tour guides believe that Iranian deserts offer a once-in-a-lifetime adventure. The unique landscape, rich history, and fascinating fauna make it a remarkable destination for visitors. The park's extensive areas of savanna woodlands, monsoon tropical rainforests, and mangrove swamps provide habitat for a diverse range of flora and fauna, including over 25,000 species of plants and over 2,000 species of birds. The park is known for its stunning scenery, diverse wildlife, and rich cultural heritage, making it a must-visit destination for anyone interested in exploring the beauty of Australia's landscapes and cultures.

Iranian, Afghan handicrafts in joint exhibition

TOURISM

UNESCO sites at a glance

Kakadu National Park

Kakadu National Park is a living cultural landscape with exceptional natural and cultural values. Kakadu has been home to approximately 60,000 Aboriginal people for over 65,000 years. Kakadu National Park is the largest national park in Australia and one of the least impacted areas of monsoon tropical rainforest. It is home to over 3,500 production and industrial facilities, with over 3,500 production and industrial facilities. The park's unique landscape, rich history, and fascinating fauna make it a remarkable destination for visitors. The park's extensive areas of savanna woodlands, monsoon tropical rainforests, and mangrove swamps provide habitat for a diverse range of flora and fauna, including over 25,000 species of plants and over 2,000 species of birds. The park is a UNESCO World Heritage site, recognized for its outstanding cultural and natural values. The park includes numerous ecosystems and landscapes, making it a truly unique destination for nature lovers and outdoor enthusiasts. The park is known for its stunning scenery, diverse wildlife, and rich cultural heritage, making it a must-visit destination for anyone interested in exploring the beauty of Australia's landscapes and cultures.
COVID-19 takes lowest toll on foreign nationals in Iran

Iran had the lowest coronavirus cases and mortality among refugees and foreign nationals compared to the population it is hosting, Mehdi Mahmoud, Director of Immigrants Affairs of the Ministry of Interior, said.

Referring to the measures taken for non-Iranian citizens during the pandemic, he said that since the very beginning, when the country faced a new health crisis, the measures for foreign nationals in our country was no exception to this issue, and proper diagrams and necessary measures have been taken for this group.

“We identified foreign nationals in need to try to provide them with the necessary support as well as health packages and self-protective items needed to prevent the infection,” he explained.
Do not waste water even if you were at a running stream.

Prophet Muhammad (S)